

Monarch Migration

The monarch butterfly migrates from north to south in the fall along these routes and returns north in the spring.